FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

All Integrity Commission Annual and Investigation Reports submitted to Parliament for tabling have been tabled

March 22, 2024

The Integrity Commission has taken note of comments that have been and continue to be made in sections of the media which would suggest that reports that have been submitted by the Commission to Parliament, for tabling, are yet to be tabled.

In the public interest, the Commission wishes to advise and to confirm that all of its Investigation and Annual Reports, that have so far been submitted to Parliament for tabling, have in fact been tabled. None is outstanding.

Regarding matters that are currently before the Commission, inclusive of matters that are under investigation, the Commission is, however, unable to make any public comment regarding same because it is prohibited from doing so by Sections 56(1) and/or 53(3) of the Integrity Commission Act.

The Commission wishes to remind the public that, in the interest of public transparency, once it sends an Investigation Report to Parliament for tabling, it immediately issues a media release to advise the public that it has done so despite the fact that it is, at that point in time, prohibited by law from identifying the subject of the report.

However, once that Investigation Report is tabled in Parliament, the Commission issues an advisory on X (formerly Twitter), to inform the public, and it also publishes the report on its official website - <https://integrity.gov.jm/>
